"I originally was assigned to assist one of my students with her spelling as it was not directly taught at her school. Through engaging strategies, activities, and games, her confidence and consistency improved significantly with her spelling and writing! Currently, she has no problem or anxiety working on written assignments, she reads often, and is working on writing a chapter book with her best friends."

"I had the opportunity to work with two students from the same family during last summer. Both have a history of struggling with reading. After a few sessions of working with each of them, they made significant improvement in their reading. I individualized their instruction and focused more time reading materials the young students were personally interested in. I firmly believe that all readers can improve, and the key to unlocking that potential is making reading enjoyable."

"Once a non-reader, the elementary student who I instruct has made incredible strides in her reading journey. With determination and support, she has transformed into a confident reader, able to decode words and understand stories with ease. Her newfound reading skills have not only improved her academic performance but also boosted her self-esteem, allowing her to approach learning with a positive attitude and a sense of accomplishment. This progress marks just the beginning of her continued growth and success."
